

RED CROSS: CENTRAL EAST ALABAMA CHAPTER

Every day, thousands of compassionate people like you help those in need. Our donors, volunteers, and staff work tirelessly to prevent and alleviate suffering worldwide. We give time, money, and blood, teach life-saving skills, and provide crucial services to those in crisis.

Ashley Savage, a Red Cross Disaster Program Manager in Central East Alabama, experienced a tornado in Selma, Alabama, on January 25, 2023. Seeking safety with her son, they emerged unharmed, but their home sustained damage, and trees blocked their car. Despite personal losses, Ashley immediately joined relief efforts, prioritizing community aid over her own needs. Witnessing the dedication of her colleagues motivated her to assist, coordinating volunteer teams to affected areas. Now, alongside her neighbors, Ashley works to rebuild their small town after the storm's devastation.

“At least we were not injured,” she said. “I’ve always been on the giving side of the Red Cross. I never expected to be a client.”

Services provided

Disaster Relief

Help families and communities recover from disasters

Lifesaving Blood

Blood donation processes, requirements, hosting opportunities and more

Training Services

Learn about our health & safety courses for individuals and companies

Military Families

Learn how we help service members, veterans and their families

International Services

Learn how we deliver aid and support programs around the world